

Have you or your staff been on a Core Training Programme recently?

Others have, here's what they've said:

Lisa Young Training and Development Manager Orange UK

"Alison worked with Orange in developing a training academy which provides our staff with clear succession guidelines and career progression into management roles. They have been instrumental in ensuring the programme works alongside performance management and day to day development activity, but also assist staff who want to further their career in a management role and ultimately help Orange identify talent. From diagnostic through to design and implementation their understanding and interpretation of the Orange vision has been second to none."

Amanda Hartley, Children's Centre Locality Manager

"Core Training have worked with Central Locality Children's Centres in relation to two significant projects during 2009. In both cases, I have found the training consultant and director to be highly professional in her approach to planning and co-ordinating delivery of the projects. More importantly, delivery has been effective in terms of timing, quality and outcomes."

Chester le Street District Council

"I wanted to say a personal and heartfelt thank you for the training course you facilitated last week. I found it to be one of the best one-day courses I've ever attended – and I've attended loads in my working life. The pace, interest and knowledge of the material and your training skills were fantastic. I learned a lot."

Tait Walker

"We all really enjoyed the course and have been putting into practice some of the techniques already!"

Anna Pugh, Manager, Morpeth Children's Centre

"A highly professional and quality service organised and delivered by an inspirational individual."

How Core Training operates . . .

Core is based on the principle that in order to release someone's potential they have to believe in themselves and believe in what they are trying to achieve . . .

If someone does not want to change or does not have the confidence to change then training will not be effective nor embedded and that's where organisations see no return on investment from their training budgets.

Where appropriate, many Core Training programmes will work through an assessment of core beliefs as part of any skills development in order to ensure a sustainable change in attitude, behaviour and ultimately a positive change in the way they do things.
